CPAC Paraguay Is Making Its Historic Debut with Latin American Presidents, Ministers and Global Leaders

Asunción, Paraguay — September 16, 2025 — The Conservative Political Action Conference (CPAC) is making its historic debut in Paraguay today, bringing together Latin American presidents, ministers, lawmakers and international thought leaders for a full day of dialogue on liberty, democracy and growing the Freedom First Movement. The event is taking place at the Sheraton Asunción Hotel, marking a milestone moment for the conservative movement in the region.

Honoring Charlie Kirk

CPAC opened the conference by honoring the life and legacy of Charlie Kirk, paying tribute to his unwavering dedication to advancing conservative values. The program included a moment of silence and powerful video montage celebrating Kirk's influence as a bold advocate for freedom, faith, and the next generation of leaders.

Key Highlights:

- Presidential Powerhouses: Argentine President Javier Milei and Paraguayan President Santiago Peña are headlining the conference, underscoring the growing influence of liberty-minded leadership across the continent.
- Global Voices: Presidential Envoy and CPAC Board Member, Ric Grenell is addressing attendees, bringing an international perspective on diplomacy, security, and the global fight for freedom.
- Global Audience: The conference is featuring a robust exchange of ideas, with leaders from across the Americas joining in-person and virtually.
- Watch the Replay: The full event is available to stream on-demand at CPAC Paraguay.

Strengthening the Movement

“Today we are marking a historic moment for conservative values in Latin America,” said Matt Schlapp, CPAC Chairman. “CPAC Paraguay is not just a conference — it is a platform for engagement, policy shaping and strengthening ties across nations.”

Building Momentum

Organizers say CPAC Paraguay is poised to become a recurring gathering, creating a permanent forum for conservative thought leadership in Latin America. The expansion into Paraguay reflects the global momentum of CPAC, uniting voices committed to freedom, faith, and free enterprise.
